

Open Access stands for

Free and unhindered access to scholarly information for anybody

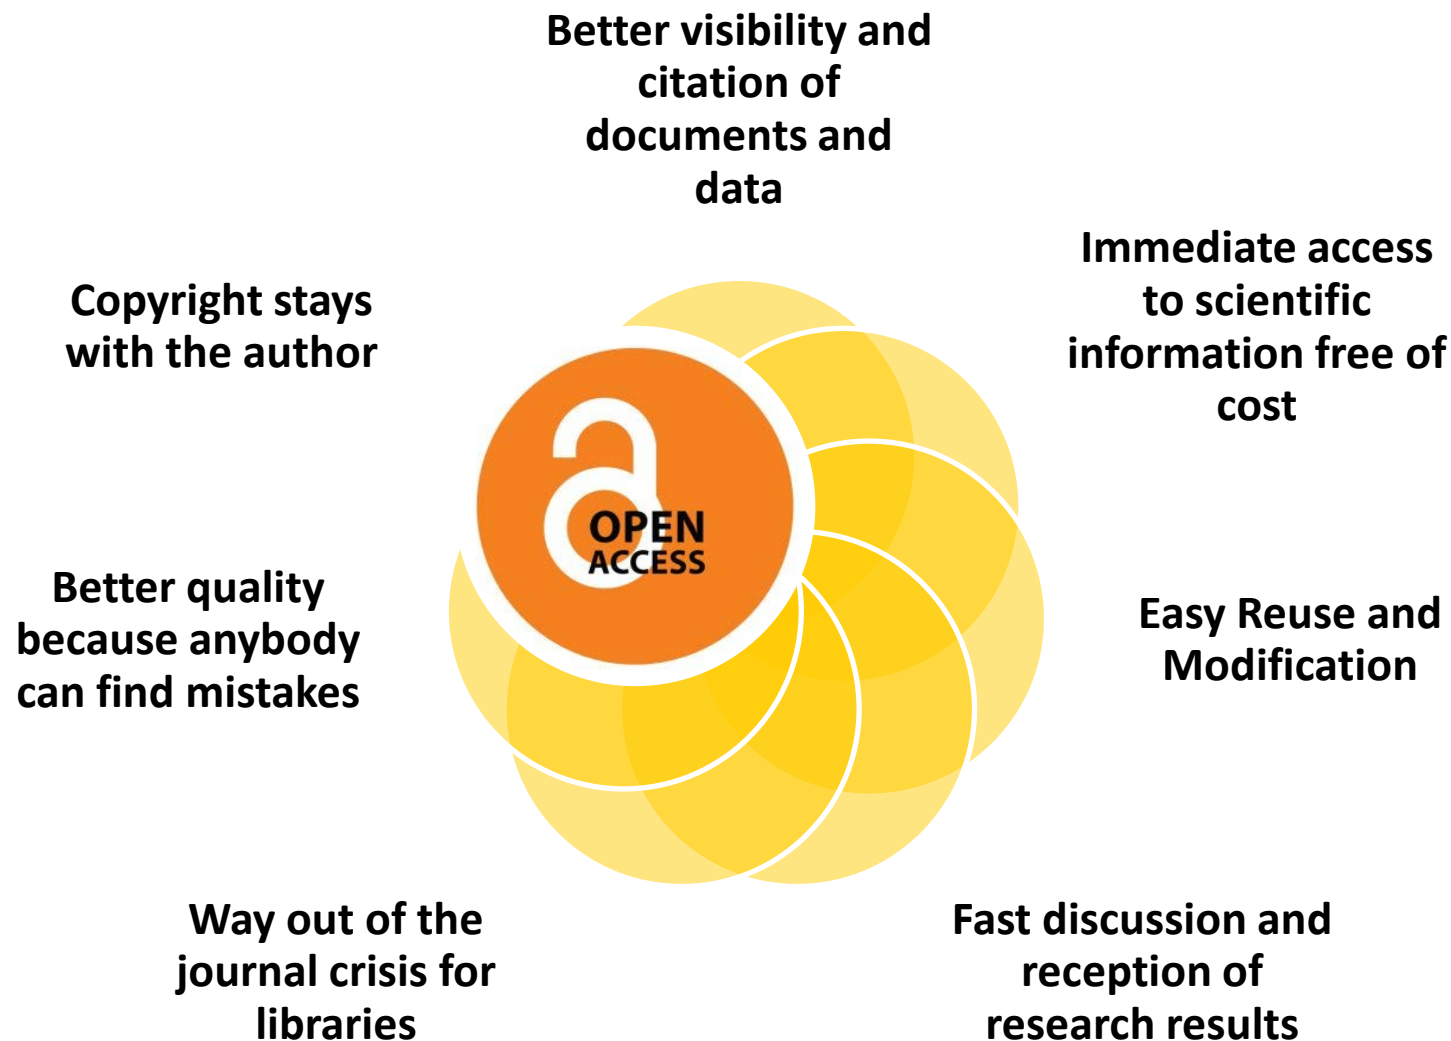

- Without costs for readers
- Without technical or legal barriers
- Usage around the world

Supported by all major German research communities:

Berlin Declaration on Open Access to Knowledge in the Sciences and Humanities. 22 October 2003

The Internet has fundamentally changed the practical and economic realities of distributing scientific knowledge and cultural heritage. For the first time ever, the Internet now offers the chance to constitute a global and interactive representation of human knowledge, including cultural heritage and the guarantee of worldwide access.

We, the undersigned, feel obliged to address the challenges of the Internet as an emerging functional medium for distributing knowledge. Obviously, these developments will be able to significantly modify the nature of scientific publishing as well as the existing system of quality assurance.
